VIVATECH BROKEN THE RECORD OF 150,000 VISITORS SURPASING C.E.S Vegas BECAME THE LARGEST MUST SEEN TECH FAIR

Paris, Washington DC, 22.06.2023, 00:42 Time

USPA NEWS - The VivaTech show, closed in a happy end clap, breaking a record of visitors, who are over 150,000 to participate and visit the form now on, largest Tech Fair in the world. Maurice Levy, and Pierre Louette, the two co-founders must be thrilled and satisfied as they fulfilled President Macron's wish « to overpass the C.E.S, largest US Tech Fair, with 118,000 Visitors/year ». That was a challenge given to the French Leaders, to reach at least that number, proposed by the head of state himself, Emmanuel Macron. A year ahead of the Paris 2024, Olympic & Paralympic games, to be held in Paris in August 2024, France is now in the very fast track of successful path, when it comes, to technology, including AI, Startups, Unicorns, and the most advanced innovations. With 2,400 start-ups and 20% more space, the show hoped to attract even more visitors for its seventh edition, surpassing its record from last year which saw 91,000 curious people flocking to Porte de Versailles. Viva tech, stated, in a press release, the show lists 150,000 visitors, "from 174 countries".

The happy few very Next Unicorns, were awarded, with Defined AI, in different areas, such as, Digital Media, FinTech, Market Place, and also the Impact.

A special focus was dedicated to D&I (Diversity & Inclusion), offering a special Corner Space for the underprivileged people to pitch and unveil their latest innovations, and projects of startups. Although Disability is very often, marginalized, Vivatech, made a good point in sparing some opportunity chance, through the window of Diversidays, led by his co-founder Anthony Babkine. Francois Bitouzet, invited the whole group of the dozen of underprivileged, including two disabled persons, to the Vivatech VIP Lounge, as he praised them and encourage them before they go and meet with investors..

As part as Sport is concerne, Moez, multi Paralympic champion of Escrime, unveiled a very uncanny innovative pill, able to optimize, the body temperature, called « Bodycap » made by Orange Group. He kept the secrecy of it and remained mysterious around the pill and whether it should be ready for the Paris 2024 Games.
